Rome, May 26.

CArdinal Tencin has put off his Departure for France till the 17th of June. The Pope proposes to set out To-morrow for his Villeggiatura at Castle Candolfo.

Florence, May 29. The Desertion from the Spanish Army still continues, Parties from 50 to 90 per Day arriving at Parma, Piacenza, and other Places in Lombardy, besides those that come daily to Tuscany. The Sardinian and Austrian Troops have drawn their Line to a less Extent along the Panaro, the earlier to join together and oppose any Attempt the Enemies might offer, so that an Action is daily expected. On the 21st the King of Sardinia arrived at Saliceto from Parma, a small Village between Modena and the Panaro. Reinforcements of Troops daily join his Army from the different Fortresses in Lombardy, which are replaced by the Militia of Savoy. M. Traun was at Navicello, and his Army has lately been reinforced by about 3000 Croatians. The Austrians have removed from the Fortress of Parma to Mantua, the heavy Artillery, Ammunition, and military Stores. The Duke de Modena continues at Jassuolo, to which Place he has removed his Family and most valuable Effects. On the 25th a Council of War was held, and Orders were given to send Detachments of Soldiers out of the new Regiments of Militia into the Fortresses of St. Martino, Terra del Sole, &c. on the Borders of Tuscany.

Bologne, May 29, N. S. The Spanish Army has made a small Motion in order to encamp three Miles beyond Samoggia, towards the Panaro, and the Duke of Montemar having demanded Straw and other Forage from the People of Cento, 'tis conjectured that he intends to march towards that Town, which is situated on the Borders of Ferrara, the Bolonese, and the Dutchy of Mirandola. The King of Sardinia is gone to review the Austrian and Piedmontese Troops that encamp on the Banks of the Panaro, and has made several Dispositions for disputing the Passage of that River with the Spaniards. His Majesty has likewise thrown a Bridge over the Po, between Guastalla and Gualteri, the better to receive the Piedmontese and Swiss Troops, who are marching to reinforce his Army.

From the Camp of Cologaro, the 31st of May, on the Bank of the River Panaro.

The Spaniards that were incamped between Bologna and Nice, twelve Miles off, are approached to Panaro, and are but two Miles distant from us. The King of Sardinia gave Orders this Morning to have four Bridges built, which they are now working at, each of which will be fortified with a Battery of Ten Pieces of Cannon, with a good Redoubt. Hitherto the Enemy have not stirred, and seem as if they had no Inclination to oppose it. We cannot yet find out the King's Design in this Work, some think that it is to favour their Desertion, which hitherto has been so great, that in four or five Days they have lost 600 Men. 'Tis affirmed, that from the Beginning no less than Ten Thousand have deserted from them, all Foreign Troops, which were the choicest they had, and that they have not now left above Twenty eight Thousand Men in all. The King has Twenty five Thousand of his own Troops compleat, and Fourteen Thousand Austrians. Four Thousand Croatians have blocked up the Duke of Modena's Capital, in Expectation every Day of the heavy Artillery to begin the Siege, in case he refuses to explain himself between this Time and the 7th of June, which is the Time allowed him. The Austrian Hussars from Time to Time kill some of the Spaniards, and take others Prisoners. Our Army is in fine Order, in Want of nothing, whilst the Enemy is in Want of every Thing. The Bolognese is entirely ruined; they have been obliged to cut up the green Corn for Forage for the Spanish Horse. We have learn'd from Nice, that the Spaniards who are at Antibes have Thoughts of penetrating into Piedmont through the Valley of Dumont, but all the Passages are well guarded. 'Tis also said that some Shallops belonging to the English Fleet coming up the Mouth of the Vais to water, had been attacked by a Spanish Detachment, which they had repulsed, and killed 12 Men, one only being wounded on the Side of the English, who carried off their Water unmolested, and rejoined their Fleet.

From the Austrian Camp near Plaintling in Bavaria, May 28, N. S.

M. Khevenhuller having had repeated Advices of the Violences and Outrages committed by the Peasants in Bavaria, and chiefly in the District

District of Tolk towards the Tirol, as alſo that a Body of them of about 1000 were got together under Arms, and had entrench'd themſelves in the Neighbourhood of Falley, Mierſpach, and Schlierſee, his Excellency ſent Orders to General Bernklau who commands at Munich to diſarm, and diſperſe them; who detach'd the Serjeant Majors Barons St. André, and Trenck upon that Expedition; and we have now had Advice that the ſaid Officers had attack'd the abovemention'd Boors in their Intrenchments, and obliged them, after an Engagement which laſted five Hours, to lay down their Arms, and ſubmit themſelves entirely to the General's Mercy.

From the Auſtrian Camp near Sobieſlaw in Bohemia, June 2.

The 26th, 27th and 28th of May the Army remained in the Camp of Peterkaw, and the 28th in the Morning Notice was given to be in Readineſs to march upon the firſt Order. The ſame Day we were informed, that the Pruſſians had detach'd 4000 Men to Chaurzim, and that the Remainder of the Army was ſtill at Czaſlaw. The 30th our Army marched to Humpoletz, and the 31ſt to Pilgram, where we were informed, that the French who were encamped beyond the Moldaw between Neſtolitz and Frauenberg, had beſieged the little Town of Teyn with 3000 Men; which looks as if they deſigned to go by Tabor to Chaurzim, but by the March which we are to make Tomorrow to Czernowitz, we ſhall be ſo ſituated, that in one Day we can reach either Tabor, Weſſely, or Neuhaus, and be in a Condition to prevent that Deſign. The firſt of June our Army marched to Czernowitz, where we were informed by ſome Deſerters that the Pruſſian Army was contoned at Colin, Chrudim, and Konigſgratz; that ſome Troops were going to Prague; and that another Part was retiring to Sileſia. Some Days ſince the French ſeemed as if they would advance to Tabor, but our Men having taken that Poſt, they retired, and we are informed that the French are all retiring to Prague. The 2d the Army marched to Sobieſlaw, and though our Huſſars advanced within 30 Paces of the advanced Guards at Teyn, they did not diſcover any Enemy. The 4th the Army is to halt, but will march early To-morrow; and as we are but two Hours from the Enemy, this March will decide whether we ſhall come to an Engagement with the Enemy, or whether they will retire to Prague. Our laſt Advices ſay, that the Pruſſians are marching towards Ledetz.

Dreſden, June 13. Merſhal Belliſle ſet out this Morning for Bohemia, and Marſhal Seckendorff intends to ſet out this Night for Bavaria. It is ſaid here, that the French have loſt all their Baggage and Artillery, and near 5000 Men; and that beſides what had been killed, they had left behind all their Sick, which are numerous, a Garriſon of 5 or 600 Men at Piſeck, and another at Frauenberg of between 3 and 400; all which were made Priſoners of War on thoſe Places ſurrendering at Diſcretion. It is added, that the Auſtrians intended to be at Konigſhal To-morrow, where the French have got ſome Cannon from Prague.

Copenhagen, June 9. The Miniſters of the Privy Council, and all the Foreign Miniſters, except Count Pleſſe, being now returned, there was a Court and Council held Yeſterday at Hirſcholm.

Rhinberg, June 11. The Marſhal de Maillebois has made the following Diſpoſition of the Troops under his Command: Eight Battallions and fifteen Squadrons, including the Gens des Armes, are to encamp on this Side of the Rhine, between Nuys and Keyſerſwaert, under the immediate Orders of the Marſhal de Maillebois, and the Head Quarters will remain fixed at Duſſeldorp. Six Battallions will encamp at Mulheim, on the other Side of the Rhine, in the Neighbourhood of Cologne, under the Orders of Lieutenant General Phelippes. Four Battallions and fifteen Squadrons will encamp at Halteren upon the Lippe, under the Command of Lieutenant General Marqueſs de Vaudray. One Battallion and ſix Squadrons at Dulmen in the Biſhoprick of Munſter, under the Command of the oldeſt Brigadier in the Army. Sixteen Squadrons at Dorſten upon the Lippe, ſix Leagues from Halteren, under the Lieutenant General Count de Lantre. Ten Battallions, eight Squadrons, and three independent Companies at Juliers, under the Counts Montal and Clermonto, Lieutenants-General. And twelve Battallions and eleven Squadrons will remain in Quarters in Weſtfalin. The Artillery remains with the Body under the Marſhal de Maillebois.

Whitehall, June 11.

On Wedneſday the 9th Inſtant, a Court Martial was held by Admiral Cavendiſh, on Board his Majeſty's Ship the St. George at Spithead, to enquire into the Conduct of Sir Yelverton Peyton, late Captain of the Hector, and of Captain Fanſhaw, late Captain of the Phenix, during the Time they were ſtationed at Virginia and South-Carolina, from whence they lately returned to England. The Court adjudged Sir Yelverton Peyton to be diſmiſſed from ſerving as a Captain in the Royal Navy; and adjudged Captain Fanſhaw to be mulcted ſix Months Pay for the Uſe of the Cheſt at Chatham.
